

Two much, too much

7 All India Rank Two Holders For CBSE X & XII - A Feat Only Seen At Amity!

Dancing to triumph

Wizards companions: I cannot thank Amity enough. The school provided us with ample online learning resources to allow for a seamless transition to remote schooling. The guidance of my teachers was so helpful. My family and friends were also crucial to my emotional as well as academic well-being.

The dancer who writes and the writer who tops. That's Suhani for you - an accomplished Kathak dancer, GT journo, and a CBSE topper!

Magic moment: The news felt surreal. I couldn't believe my eyes, and checked twice to make sure that I had the correct registration number. Once confirmed, I rushed to share the news with my parents who were, of course, overjoyed.

Winning spell: Baby steps - study for few hours daily with some breaks, instead of spending long hours hunched over a desk, pondering over books.

'Extra' wand: Other than academics, I was engaged with GT as I was a member of the school Editorial Board. I also completed my 6th year degree examinations in Classical Kathak this year.

Alluring ambition: I am yet to decide on a career path for myself. Currently, I'm looking to pursue Economics, so let's see!

Abacadabra: You needn't be daunted by the prospect of 'Boards'. It is simply a stepping stone in a series of examinations you have faced before, and many more that still await. Keep your cool, work hard without thinking about the result, and you will triumph.

Writing her destiny pouring in. I went to the school and celebrated with my loved ones.

Wizards companions: I am heartily grateful to Chairperson ma'am for nurturing us with love and care like a mother, and our Principal ma'am who has been a constant support. I have been in Amity since Class Nursery and these 14 years have played a very important part in shaping who I am today.

Language was always her focus. But who knew she would use the same strength to script her own destiny and become a rank holder!

Magic moment: My initial reaction was not that intense; I just checked my result and told my mom. Gradually the happiness sunk in as wishes started Winning spell: Regular self-study, time table management, hard work and focus.

'Extra' wand: I was a part of the editorial board which honed my language skills, and that really helped a great deal in my exams.

Alluring ambitions: I plan on going to the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, Canada, to pursue the field of psychology.

Abacadabra: Focus on language and enhance your skills. Being able to express your facts and ideas on paper in a proper language is one important aspect of scoring well.

Law of success

She wants to be a lawyer and is ready to succeed in every single way!

Magic moment: I couldn't believe it, and seeing my family proud doubled my happiness.

Wizards companions: The credit goes to my parents who tolerated my tantrums. My school was so supportive, easing the learning process.

Winning spell: Consistency and management.

'Extra' wand: I participated in the Odyssey of Mind, Young Entrepreneur Program, and was content strategist for an NGO.

Alluring ambitions: I wish to pursue law.

Abacadabra: Stay motivated. Do not panic. And lastly, don't forget to revise.

Poem of victory

sister for their support.

Winning spell: It is very important to understand what studying methods work for you. Also, take breaks to relax your mind.

'Extra' wand: I write poetry and sometimes dabble in art.

Alluring ambitions: I wish to enter the field of AI.

Abacadabra: Balance education and enjoyment.

Poet at heart scripting her topping rhymes!

Magic moment: My first reaction was to reload the site as I couldn't believe these marks!

Wizards companions: I wish to thank Chairperson ma'am and Founder sir, and also my parents and younger there throughout. A huge shoutout to Principal ma'am and my teachers for always clearing my doubts.

Winning spell: Hakuna matata - no worries at all.

'Extra' wand: I have been a GT journo for the last four years, which helped my reading and writing skills.

Alluring ambitions: I want to pursue CS.

Abacadabra: Focus on the present, work hard, and make sure that you have a good social life and good friends.

Meet Ayushi, a real-life queen who aced her high school boards!

Magic moment: I screamed for 30 seconds! I knew my result was going to be good, but I didn't expect 99.8% for sure.

Wizards companions: My family takes the lead for being and refresh my mind.

Wizards companions: My entire family, especially my grandmother, was there for me and helped me throughout the year. Arguably, however, the greatest credit must go to my other family - the Amity family.

Ever met those kids who can't rest till they have secured a cent percent? And will scratch their heads for the one mark they lost? Niamat is one of them, always striving for perfection to win!

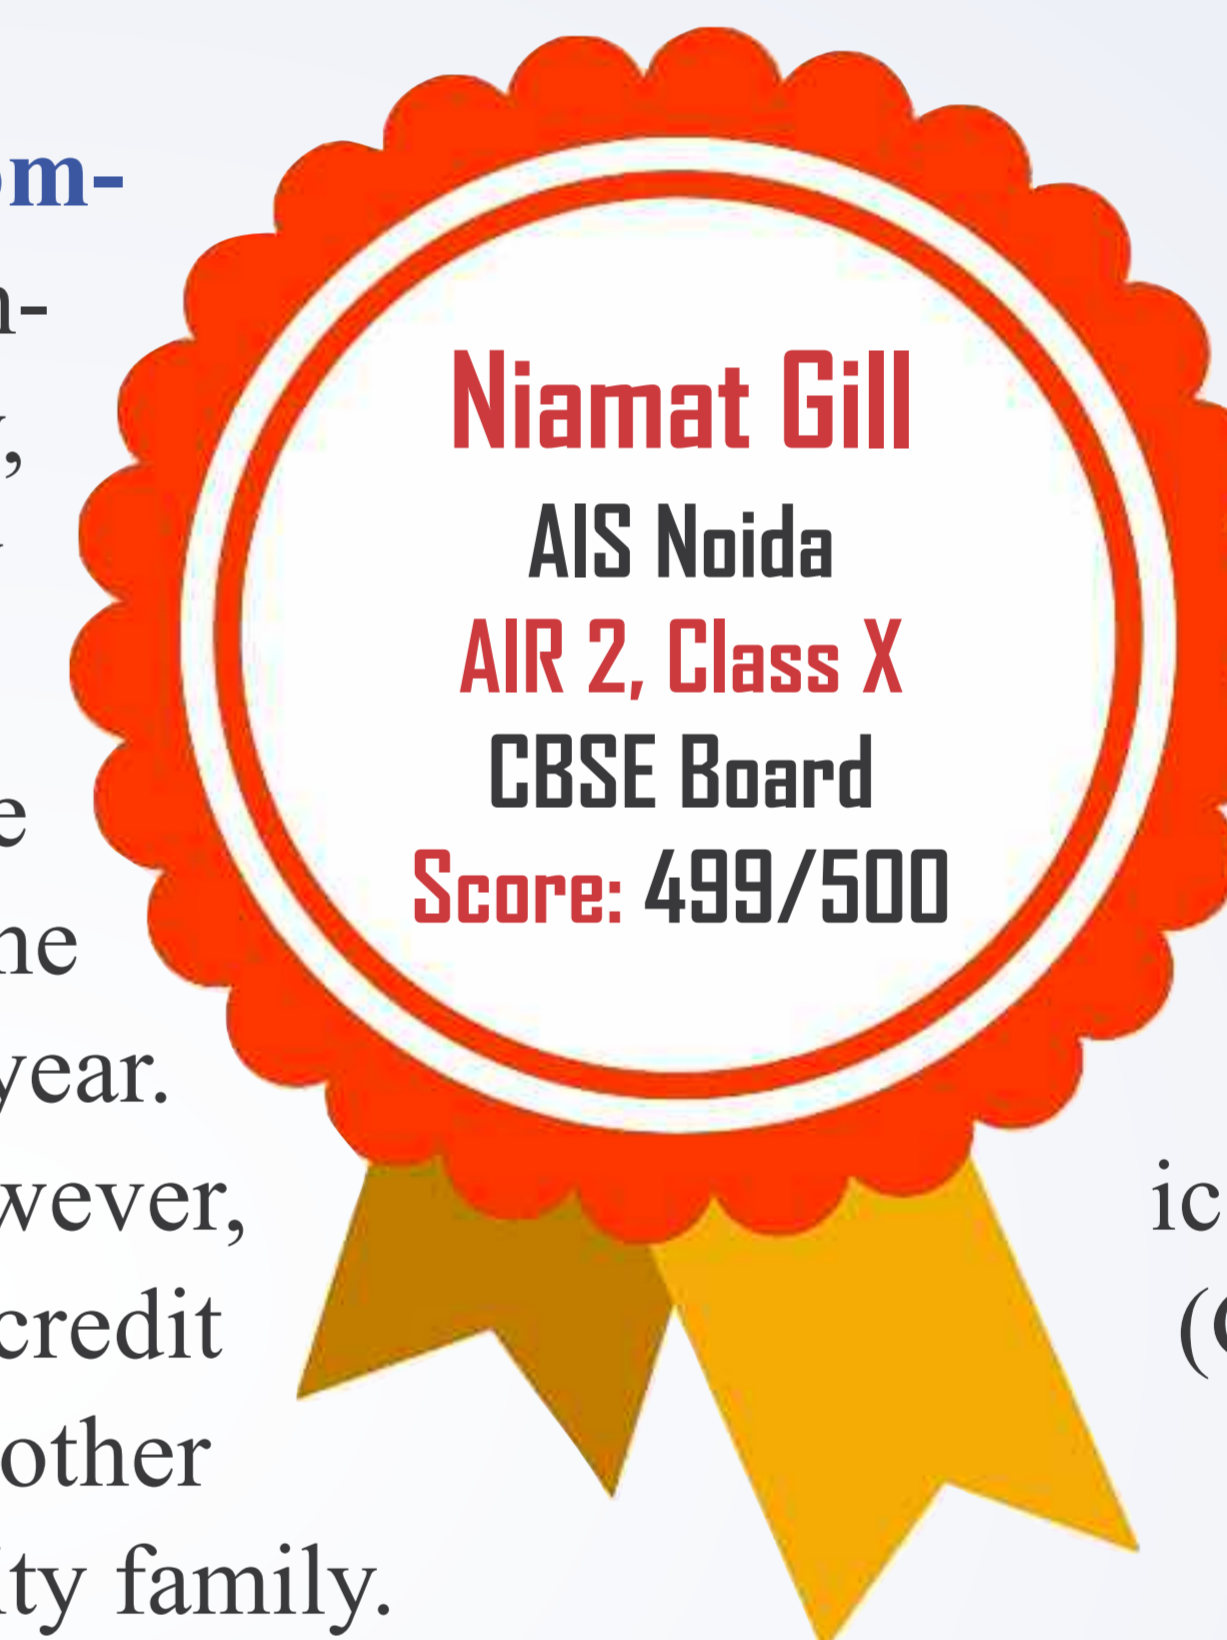

Magic moment: My first reaction was 'Where did I lose that one mark?' That said, I am proud of my achievement, especially given the circumstances in which we appeared for these Winning spell: Never bank on the next day, and be regular when it comes to education.

'Extra' wand: I was participating in Olympiads through the year, but I spaced them out well so that they did not hamper my studies. If anything, they were a good break that helped me relax Alluring ambitions: I will be going into advanced studies and theoretical physics research. I wish to pursue Quantum Mechanics as well as GUTs (Grand Unified Theories) in particular.

Abacadabra: While a good grip on the subject in question and an extensive understanding of the syllabus is important, the same may not necessarily translate to marks in the Board Exams. Scoring well is an entirely different question. Just stay consistent, stay calm, work hard, and give things you attempt your best!

It happened for real ready on the verge of tears. I cried for ten minutes straight before bursting into a euphoric "yayyyy!"

Wizards companions: I attribute my success to my parents, especially to my mom, who has been my rock and has stuck by me through all times. My teachers also played a vital role. They answered all my queries, even in the middle of the night. Chairperson ma'am is also a huge motivating factor; I would always listen to her speeches sincerely because they would motivate me to do better.

Winning spell: Listen to your parents and teachers. Stay disciplined, focused, and study everyday.

'Extra' wand: I was a part of the student council and Youth Power team, and it has really shaped me into the person that I am today.

Alluring ambitions: My family is full of engineers and I wish to follow suit.

Abacadabra: Do not get scared of what question you will get in the exam. Just focus on covering the syllabus and you will be good.
