Ode to art of speaking

Amity University organised two valuable sessions for the thinkers and the students to come together to discuss, debate and share knowledge & learning

Lekha Rani Singh

Faculty, Amity Instt of Corporate Communication

Amity Institute of Corporate Communication (AICC) organised a workshop on 'Art of Speaking' on February 29, 2012. The chief guest of the workshop was Dr Vikas Sharma, HOD (English) PG DAV College, and Secretary for College English Teachers Association. The distinguished guests included Dolly May Ryall, Director of Studies, The London Centre of Spoken English and Mr Rajiv Mudgil, CEO, The London Centre of Spoken English. The workshop was attended by all the students of Amity School of Engineering & Technology and Amity Institute of Information Technology.

The welcome address was delivered by Ms Lekha Rani Singh, Faculty, AICC, followed by the traditional felicitation of the guests.

The workshop was introduced by Capt H A Arfi, Director, AICC and AIESR. He discussed the relevance of communication skills and highlighted the goals of the workshop.

Meanwhile, Dolly May Ryall addressed the students while emphasizing the importance of English language in interna-

Dr Indu Rampal, Senior Lecturer, AICC, presented a PowerPoint presentation on 'Art of Speaking' and touched upon the importance of the basics of communication. She also provided excellent examples to improve pronunciation. In the question and answer session that followed, Dr Rampal was flooded with intelligent questions coming in from the students's end. The enthusiastic lecturer however, did complete justice to the questions raised by the eager learners. Dr Vikas Sharma asked the students to read classic literature in order to grasp new words and use them creatively as well as to improve communication skills. The workshop was an extremely stimulating one and was successful in inspiring a free flowing, invigorating and healthy interaction between the erudite speakers and the students.

Discussing Economics

Raunak Singh

Amity school of Economics

Amity School of Economics organised its annual symposium "Orion 2012" on March 19, 2012. The panel discussion focussed on maintaining economic balance and laying greater emphasis on the two vital sectors- health and education. The second half of the symposium was dedicated to the annual conventional debate. The topic was "100% FDI in retail- a boon for the Indian economy?" The best interjector prize was won by Yachna Kumar (Amity Institute of Telecom Technology & Management).
