

AIMUN Special

The wait...

To all the delegates online: go sleep people.

And to all others, how come you've slept already??? :P

We meet in 8hrs. Come armed.

Siddhant Wadhwa

Tomorrow.

Agh. Mm.

Aa.

Control.

Eklavya Malvai

"Amity International Model United Nations Conference 2011".

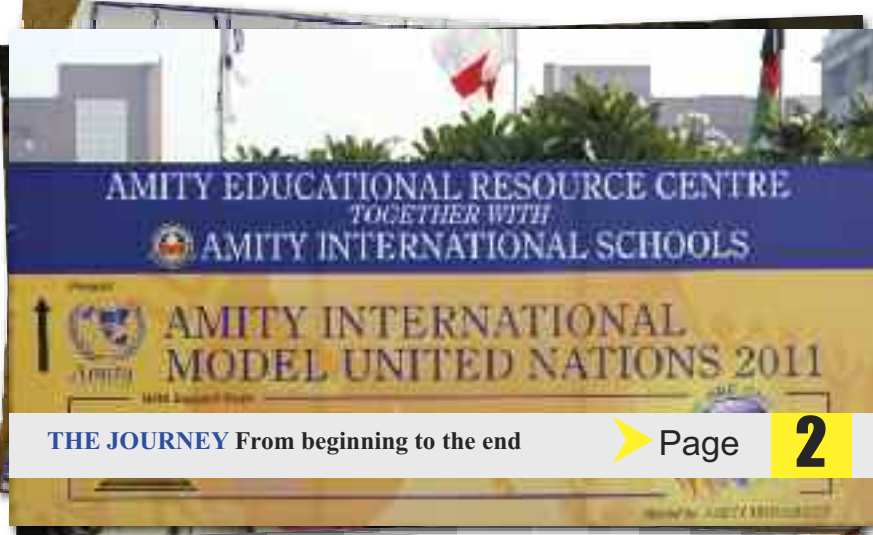

Suit up!

Vathul BS

The "yay!" that echoed far and wide...

Now wait for the 239129037928379827391827398273 9182739872398273 AIMUN statuses!

Katyayani Singh

THE JOURNEY From beginning to the end

Page 2

POWER PACKED Committees in action

Page 4-7

WORDS-WORTH Experts get talking on AIMUN

Page 3

AIMUN 2011

AMITY INTERNATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS 2011 - three days filled with fun, emotions, deliberations, debate, euphoria and countless other things that are hard to put in words. Flip through these 12 pages for a nostalgic ride as we take you back in the best days of November 2011.

That epic moment when a delegate calls himself delicate :D

Shivangi Singh

AIMUN'11 : D
SUUPPEERRMEGAFFODXXYYAMMAA
INGGG.

Amrita Walia

No matter how many MUNs I do
No matter how much I love German and Hungarian MUNs,
I never can imagine a MUN which can even come close to you,
AIMUN..

Akshat Agarwal

AIMUN II = Awesomeness personified!

Radhika Mukherji

Aftermath and the nostalgia

AIMUN means more international friendships. eeeee!

Aalvee Damle

3 Unforgettable Days Of My Life :)
See You Next Year AIMUN. For Sure

Nikhil Mehta

AIMUN :D What a life changing experience! Tells your flaws and still makes you happy.

Isha Batra

And it ends. No words can describe how i feel right now. The endless work. Sleepless nights. Three awesome days. Making new friends. Loads of laughter. Tons of fun. Being recognized by the chairperson. People shouting my name. AIMUN 2011 you will be missed. USG IT

Aditya Batra

Compiled by Snigdha Shahi, AISN

BRINGING THE WORLD TO YOU Get candid with the foreign delegations

Page 8-9

NEWS, VIEWS & MORE Global Press reports

Page 10

ROCK N ROLL Dine & Dance

Page 11

AIMUN Amazingly Inspirational Mightily Unforgettable Nexus

Saute two cups of debate, temper with international seasonings and expert flavours. Cook on a flame of love for three days and garnish with fun. You have the recipe for India's largest international MUN

Medhavi Arora, AIS Noida

Amity International Model United Nations 2011 was a perfect potpourri, sizzled with all the right ingredients of debate, deliberation, fun, madness, excitement and more. The three day event organised by Amity Education Resource Centre together with Amity International Schools and supported by UNESCO and UN Information Centre for India and Bhutan was held at Amity University, Noida from November 17 to 19, 2011.

The Banging of the Gavel

"I now declare AIMUN 2011 officially open." As the Sec Gen said these words, the atmosphere clouded with an anticipation that can be safely described as frantic ('franticipation' if you may). The light bang of the gavel generated a series of spirited waves that touched everyone present at the Opening Ceremony - representatives of Amity Int. Schools, Amity University, special guests and dignitaries, delegates, Exec. Board, Global Press, Logistics, Conference Staff, Hospitality, volunteers...you name it.

Debatable Disputes

It was hard to say who played their role better: the EB or the delegates, as both

Dr (Mrs) Amita Chauhan felicitates Mr Parasuramen during the Opening Ceremony AIMUN '11

outdid expectations in terms of knowledge, intellect, diplomacy and pure unadulterated wit. The result - action packed committee sessions! Certain Committees like the GA and IAEA started off slowly (YAWN, went the GP) but progressed to nail-biting, sweat-inducing centers of action by the dawn of the second and third days. The brand new committees (JCC USA and Russia) set new records of enriching and productive debate with their brilliant crisis.

Everyday I'm shufflin'!

All work and no play makes delegates forget their international policies. As a result, hectic committee sessions finally gave way to the Delegate Dance and Dinner (D3), the most awaited event. Performances by the international and local delegates set the perfect mood for what was to follow - the fabulous dance party! Delegates bonded each other over dinner. Talking about food; from deli-

500 delegates
52 schools across India
8 participating countries
14 International schools

cious vegetables, passing by pasta, right down to matar-paneer, with great conversation as accompaniment; AIMUN had it all.

After all, We Are One!

A spectacular Closing Ceremony replete with cultural performances, inspiring speeches and a video, summarized the event that marked the dawn of the perfect 3 days. The day also had special guests, Mr Salman Kurshid, Minister of Law and Justice and Mr Ram Jethmalani, MP and former Minister of Law and Justice visit the ongoing committee sessions. Delegates were awarded and felicitated; so were the EB, Secretariat, Organizing Committee and GP. Goodbye hugs and promises to keep in touch proved that everyone took back home a lot of expertise and knowledge. So long and till we meet again at AIMUN 2012! 🇮🇳

The Opening Ceremony saw a full house

OPEN

Labanya Maitra, AIS Saket

"I now declare Amity International Model United Nations Conference 2011 officially open." -

Akshat Aggarwal, Sec. Gen. AIMUN 2011

WHAT: Opening Ceremony, AIMUN '11

WHEN: November 17, 2011

WHERE: I-2 Auditorium, Amity University, Noida

WHY: To put an end to all the anticipation

WHO: Dr Amita Chauhan, Chairperson, Amity Group of Schools • Dr Eszter Lukacs, Chief Guest & Member of the Presidium, United Nations Association of Hungary • Mr A Parasuramen, Guest of Honour, Former Director UNESCO

Golden words

"MUN and vedic philosophy say just the same thing - both have a quest for peace."

Dr (Mrs) Amita Chauhan

• Mrs Pooja Chauhan, Vice Chairperson, AHF • Mrs Divya Chauhan, Chairperson, ASFT & ASPA • Ms Sarah Berry, Education & Culture Incharge, Swiss Embassy • Ms Rani Hong, UN.GIFT Special Advisor • Ms Lydia Barraza, Cultural Affairs Officer - North India Program, Embassy of USA • Prof P R Ramanujam, Pro VC IGNOU

The ceremony began on a spiritual note with the auspicious lighting of the lamp and chanting of the gayatri mantra. The guests were welcomed by Ms Renu Singh, Principal AIS Noida and Ms Jyoti Arora, Head AERC, honouring attithi devo bhawah to the fullest. This was followed by a PPT depicting the achievements, and glories of Amity. Honourable Chairperson Dr. (Mrs) Amita Chauhan enlightened the gathering with her words of wisdom and welcomed the honorary guests. Dr. Eszter Lukacs and Mr. Armoogun Parasuramen, liberated the assembly with their thought provoking messages. The Sec Gen introduced the entire Secretariat and AIMUN 2011 was officially declared open. 🇮🇳

AIS Saket students perform during the Closing Ceremony

CLOSE

Gagandeep Kaur & Shreya Gauba, AIS MV

"I now declare Amity International Model United Nations Conference 2011 closed." -

Akshat Aggarwal, Sec. Gen. AIMUN 2011

WHAT: Closing Ceremony

WHEN: November 19, 2011

WHERE: I-2 Audi. AUUP

WHY: To put an end to all the excitement, madness and more

WHO: Dr Amita Chauhan, Chairperson, Amity Group of Schools • Mr Atul Chauhan, Chancellor, AUUP • Mr Martin Strub, Chief Guest, Charge d' Affaires, Swiss Embassy • Dr Kiran Mehra Kerpelman, Guest of Honour & Director, UNIC, India & Bhutan • Mr Parasuramen, Former Director UN-

Golden words

"The role of UN is to bring people together."

Dr Kiran Mehra

"There are 7 billion people in this world but only a small percentage is successful. And I am sure that some of them are right here, sitting in this room."

Mr Atul Chauhan

ESCO • Ms Sapna Chauhan, Vice Chairperson, Amioun • Ms Puneet Kaur, Sec. Gen. Goethe Institute • Dr R Bhat-tacharjee, Prof, DU • Ms Divya Arora, National Director, AFS Inter Cultural Programs

News: People were seen moving to I-2 Auditorium with their heads hung down and a graveyard silence. The suspense of the somber atmosphere was revealed. AIMUN was over.

The Closing Ceremony started with a melodious song presented by Amitasha. This was followed by a series of performances, which included everything from awe inspiring dance moves to ear drenching musical fusion. The event had its share of nostalgic moments too as a video that showcased the three fun filled days gone by was screened. The dignitaries present enlightened the audience with words of wisdom. The event culminated with an award spree for the best delegates. 🇮🇳

We are one

Chairperson's message

Amity upholds the philosophy of Vasudaiva Katumbkam – the world is one. Keeping in sync with our tradition of fostering global partnerships, Amity spearheaded India's biggest International Model United Nations – AIMUN 2011. The mega spectacle put together the entire world under one roof, resonating the motto 'We are one'. Amity awards high priority to youth development and hence extensively supports youth programs. AIMUN is one such platform that lets the youth foray into international cooperation. MUN is a unique forum for the youth - the future of tomorrow to acquire, develop and test their skills and competencies of crucial importance towards accurately

MUN is a unique forum for the youth to acquire, develop and test their competencies of crucial importance towards resolving daunting challenges that perplex the world. - Dr. Amita Chaudhan simulating the UN and resolving some of the most daunting challenges perplexing the world. AIMUN 2011, opened on a grander, bigger, better note this year, repeating its resounding success and nostalgia like never before. The three day event interspersed with countless emotions, months of hard work, debate, deliberations, impeccable communication skills saw participation of more than 500 delegates and 8 countries. I am certain that these 3 days shall remain engraved with you throughout your life and will inspire Amitians to become global citizens, making the world a better place to live. Sometimes, the end is just a beginning for more exciting adventures. With all the things that you have acquired from AIMUN, you are now ready on board for many more expeditions to come in the future.

A better world

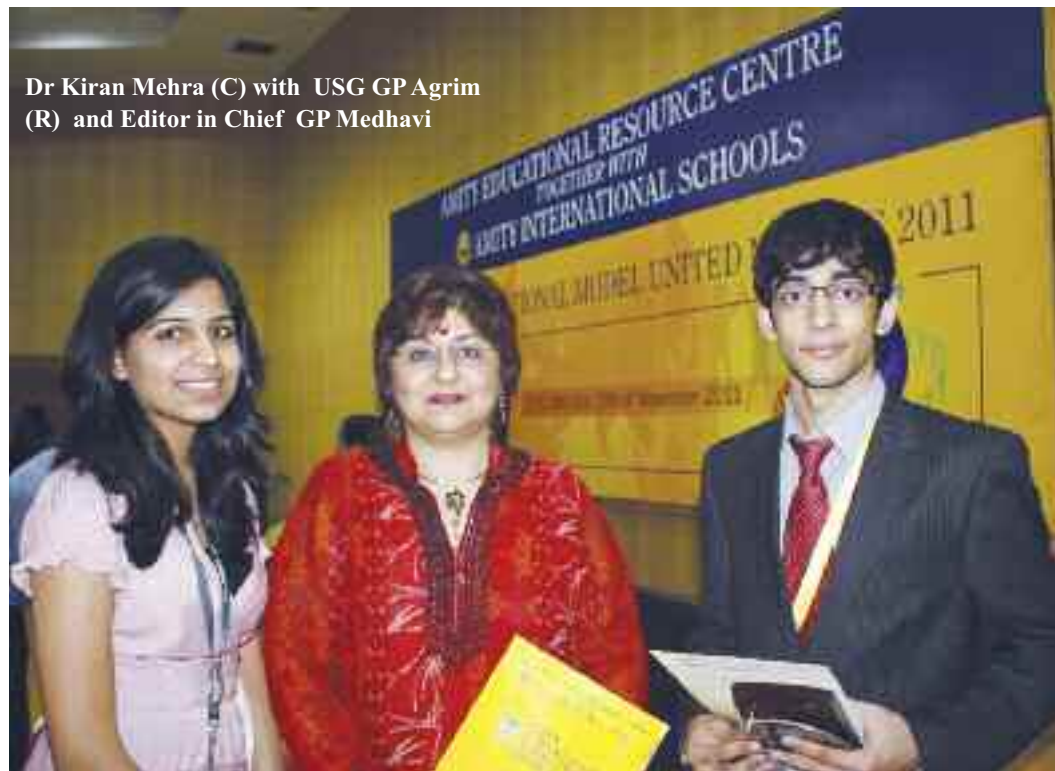

Message from the UN Sec Gen

You meet at a time of great change and challenge. Our world faces an increasingly complex set of realities, from rising joblessness to growing inequality to the increasing dangers of climate change. We need to forge a common agenda that can help ensure that future generations grow up in a world of sustainable peace, prosperity, freedom and justice. You have a crucial role to play. The world's young people are more than our future. You are also our present, both in numbers and how you are using technology and creativity to drive political and social change. You will soon be the government officials who will negotiate peace...the community lead-

This Model United Nations can contribute to our push for progress. By participating, you will hone your negotiating skills and learn what it takes to achieve consensus. - Ban Ki-moon ers who will help feed and shelter the vulnerable ... the entrepreneurs and innovators who will get carbon emissions under control ... the lawyers and human rights defenders who will fight impunity and teach tolerance. This Model United Nations can contribute to our push for progress. By participating, you will hone your negotiating skills and learn what it takes to achieve consensus. Armed with these assets, you can mobilize, engage and act on major issues of our day. This is an era of great uncertainty, but also one of profound opportunity for individuals to make a difference. Please help us shape our shared future for the better, and help the United Nations deliver what the world needs at this crucial moment. I wish you great success at this Model UN, and I hope the experience will inspire you to support our work for years to come.

Dr Kiran Mehra (C) with USG GP Agrim (R) and Editor in Chief GP Medhavi

Handshakes and diplomacy...

...are the most essential components of a MUN, says Kiran Mehra Kerpelman, UNIC, Director

Agrim Sachdeva, AIS Saket & Medhavi Arora, AIS Noida

been involved in order to witness this grand spectacle.

What is your take on MUNs?

The Sec Gen of the United Nations Mr. Ban Ki-Moon gives a lot of importance to the institution that is MUN. Today's world is not like it was before and is greatly influenced by social media. MUNs give students a fantastic opportunity to come face to face, make friends and form lasting friendships. It makes me wish I were back at university.

What, according to you, are the most essential components of an MUN?

The behind the scenes are most important: the handshakes and the diplomacy.

How do you feel being a part of AIMUN?

AIMUN was an amazing and riveting experience. I truly wish more people from the UN could have

What was the one extra curricular activity or experience during your childhood that greatly influenced the person you are today?

UNIC was the first UN office in India. It was established 7 months prior to Independence. As a child, I visited the UNIC on a school excursion where I was given a book. The visit fascinated me so much that I later went on to give exams to enter, and I still possess the certificated I received in return. Little did I know that I would return years later to become an inseparable part of the very same organization!

Any message for the students.

I want students to move out of their comfort zone, travel, meet fellow leaders and be able to say, "Hey, I met you at so-and-so MUN. I'm the leader of Country X. Let's make the world work!"

EXPERT APPLAUSE

When experts give you a thumbs-up, you know you are on the right track. It is time to hold your chin up high and smile as experts applaud the three day mega spectacle

Mr Parasuramen
Former Director, UNESCO in India

As kids didn't get a platform like AIMUN. You are fortunate to get an opportunity like this. It's a great learning process. It's good that the youth of today are taking initiative and discussing world problems on international level, chalking solutions. I started my political career early. If I had the chance to attend a MUN, my path would have been easier.

As told to Pankhuri, GP reporter

Martin Strub
Chargé d'Affaires,
Swiss Embassy

"Congratulations AIMUN for the second run. I believe that the agendas discussed here are relevant and will provide students a new perception of dealing with issues. AIMUN provides a great forum for global citizens to come out and discuss problems that plague the world at this current hour."

As told to Akash Sahai, GP reporter

Prof Ramanujan
Pro VC, IGNOU

"MUNs are the best way to create awareness about global problems. Students gain a lot of knowledge. AIMUN is a wonderful concept and I am happy to see that Amity is facilitating real interaction of the participants with members of UN bodies and taking the debate to a higher level."

As told to Abhishi & Brinda, GP reporters

Adam Bagyi
Director General

"I am really happy to see more international delegates as AIMUN is getting better by years. Indian students have a good experience of MUNs and are well versed with the Do's and Don'ts. The Executive Board members are well qualified and AIMUN 2011 just seems perfect. It couldn't get better than this."

As told to Pankhuri, GP reporter

Rani Hong UN.GIFT
Special Advisor

"It is so exciting to see young people come together with so much passion and energy to bring about a change in the world. This conference brings together the vibrancy of youth and unmatched professionalism. Discussing critical issues in such a forum will usher in a change."

As told to Prakriti & Shreya, GP Reporters

Divya Arora
Director, AFS

"We, as students, never had access to such forums where we could hone our skills and flaunt our knowledge. AIMUN is an excellent endeavour by Amity and I hope each participant makes the best of these three days and takes this experience a long way to make this world a better place to live in."

As told to Medhavi, Editor in Chief, GP

Ana Wieszt
USG Crisis

"According to me, AIMUN 2011 was a great conference. It is amazing to see how involved the people here are. This is what makes this conference different from MUNOG or any other MUN I have been to. I am amazed to see the enthusiasm and involvement of children as well as the teachers present here."

As told to Sanjana Garg, GP reporter

Dr. Eszter Lukacs
Member, Presidium at the UN Assosiation of Hungary

Children are the future of the world and MUNs are a great way to bring out the leaders in them. Congratulations to Amity for organizing a MUN of this magnitude. Amity imbibes the best of Indian culture and is the perfect place for a MUN. It is at this conference that the professionalism of the West meets the spirituality of the East.

As told to Agrim, USG, GP

Generally speaking or generally sleepy, that's General Assembly for you. It surely was the committee everyone went gaga over. Read on to find out why ...

General Assembly

Aakash Sahai, Labanya Maitra, AIS Saket & Ishita Bedi, AIS MV

Mood

The three days were a joyride of a plethora of emotions. Day 1 saw happy delegates flushed with excitement as the commenced- well prepared, joyous, exhilarated, yet jittery and scared of what's coming. As the committee met on day 2, many delegates seemed worked up and tired, while many were busy passing chits; oblivious to the committee happenings. Day 3 again brought back the joy and giggles as the committee progressed towards a successful culmination.

Agenda Proceedings

Of the two agendas, 'United Nations Convention Against Corruption and money laundering' (UNCAC) and 'Peacekeeping Reforms', the committee chose the latter. USA, China and Russia formed a rather unconventional bloc. As heated discussions in the committee raised the room temperatures, the crisis was announced. The crisis took away the entire jump in the committee for a while and forced the delegates to rework their strategies and carve out a practical solution. The British airways flight no. BA-871, travelling from Heathrow International airport, London to IGI, New Delhi, had crashed in Saudi Arabia with

Executive Board

- Chairperson – Archit Krishna
- Director – Abhishek Chandra
- Assistant Director – Vivasvaan Srivastava
- Rapporteur – Shubham Mahajan

passengers from USA, UK, Cyprus, Afghanistan and Germany, in the Al-Balad residential area of Jeddah. With the US CIA working alongside Al-Qaeda, the committee witnessed the superpowers and the developing countries somehow all dragged into the crisis.

Resolutions

Even a full day of heated debates resulted in no resolution on the first day. However, blocs came together to write working papers and formulate a

GA-GA

Suit up: Executive Board in attendance and (Top) Amitasha student attends AIMUN conference for first time ever resolution. Day 2 followed suit with no resolution being passed. On day 3, the lengthy debates reached a consensus and the committee finally passed a resolution.

Statements

- Afghanistan: This issue concerns the Al-Qaeda and the delegate firmly says that the Al-Q belongs to USA. Afghanistan: The CIA has confirmed this...wait, doesn't the CIA also belong to USA?

- Assistant Director (During point of entertainment, clarifying his 'friendly' nature): I'm clean!...(bottle slips from hand and hits GP photographer)
- Chair: Still hitting on girls, are you?

Gossip

- The Assistant Director spent the entire 3 days blushing in front of the delegate of Zimbabwe.
- The GA chair was a magnet to all the girls in the committee. No wonder he got so many chits...oh and the Rapporteur was equally loved. 📱

Executive Board

- President – Sasha Bhatnagar
- Vice President – Samarth Singal
- Asst Director – Nirjhar Bhattacharya
- Rapporteur – Kim Hans

Get that uniform, the war is on!

Security Council

A war of words, unending heavy duty speeches, battle of bulge and an equally terrifying crisis, the three days in Security Council were peppered with loads of spice, drama, tension and much more. Catch the chutzpah all here

Sanjana Garg, AIS Noida

Mood

Hand them a sword, create a graveyard - such was the mood of the Security Council throughout day 1 and day 2. The committee looked nothing like a group of peacekeepers. The sessions were replete with heated arguments, intense debates and spiteful wars in the making. The dark moment arrived with the entry of the Secretary General. As expected, he brought with him an air of excitement and soon, he introduced a crisis. Aggressive debates followed. Day 3 saw delegates (and the press) getting nostalgic. Determined to enjoy to the fullest, the delegates gave their best and the committee ended with a bang.

Agenda Proceedings

The real agenda was 'Arab revolutions and Instability in the Middle East'. Initially, debates primarily focused on the problems in Syria, Libya and Iran. After a discussion on Syrian problems that lasted for aeons, things took an interesting turn (when GP had absolutely no hopes left), when the delegate of Iran indirectly declared war on USA and Israel. Much to the amusement of all the delegates, he went on to promise to wipe out Washington DC from the face of the earth (hahaha) with its nuclear warfare (oohhh...intimidating). Imagine his terror (and others' delight) when the Secretary General decided to teach him a lesson by introducing a crisis on Iranian Ballistic Missile Testing.

The poor delegate of Iran was then constantly bombarded with questions throughout Day 2 (Phew). Day 3 was all about the resolutions.

Resolutions

The first two resolutions were on the crisis. The first resolution, put up by China and the Russian Federation, was full of loopholes. The resolution was soon in total jeopardy and thereafter, failed. Totally annoyed with the situation, the two nations vetoed the other resolution (somebody had HUGE ego problems). With this, the Security Council failed to resolve the crisis. The same story followed with the other 2 resolutions (on the original agenda), with one failing and the other getting vetoed. Hence, the Security Council was unable to pass any resolution!

Statements

- Vice President (male): I am not suggesting anything, but for the benefit of the committee and the Global Press, I am not currently committed.
- Chair: That invitation is open to all male delegates!

Gossip

- The delegates of UK and Russia found a hotspot for each other.
- Being the playboy that the delegate of UK was, he couldn't stop flirting with the Global Press. Much to everybody's shock, he complained that the Global Press was "sending frivolous chits to me." LIAR.
- Sparks clearly flew between the Chair and the Vice-president during the informal sessions. Many hearts were broken. (sob sob)
- The sexuality of the delegate of Gabon was repeatedly questioned as he was called the delegate of "GAY-BORN" due to his silly comments and annoying nature. 📱

Dr. Ashok k Chauhan and Union Law Minister Salman Khurshid visit Security Council

No sushi for the director!!

UNESCO

Real serious agendas, classic statements by the Executive Board and dollops of gossip... UNESCO had it all

Gagandeep, Pankhuri, AIS Mayur Vihar & Gioia, Kantonschule Wettingen, Switzerland

Mood

“It’s important to be connected to the world, otherwise you’re lost.” With these enlightening words, Mr. Parsuramen, Former Director, UNESCO India, kickstarted a catchy and engaging session on Day 1. However, the momentum soon fizzled out, making the day slow and drab as delegates chose to stick to the shell (not to say lazy or sleepy). Day 2, however, presented a different picture. Heated debates took place and every delegate was eager to be heard. The unending debate, however, took its toll, and saturated the delegates to the hilt on Day 3. But the delegates had no reason to be bored. Daydreaming about pizza and writing bold chits kept them busy.

Agenda Proceedings

During the caucus about the agenda - ‘Bioethics and Ethics of Science and Technology’, the discussion heated up, when it came to controversial themes like chemical weapons, stem cell research, nanotechnology, suicide and abortion. The room’s temperature rose further as topics like child soldiers, illiteracy and gender inequality were debated upon at great length.

Two crises interrupted the caucus. The delegates sent NATO troops to Saudi Arabia as the country was suspected to have sent a threatening letter to Israel saying that the days of all Jews were numbered if Israel refused to accept Palestine as a free state. Furthermore, the committee had to prove that they were capable of reacting swiftly and taking measures, when a biochemical toxin contaminated the Russian, Chinese and Japanese territories.

Resolutions

On the second day, one resolution about ethical guidelines was passed with a good majority. After a long lobbying session in which everybody tried to shout loudest, the committee agreed on a paper that set limits to cloning, abortion and the use of nanotechnology. No resolutions were passed on the third day. It seemed as if everybody was just waiting for the last segment of the session- point of entertainment, and that was all they ever cared for.

Statements

- Director: What? Does that mean I can’t get Sushi? I love Sushi!
- Delegate of India: We cannot play God.
- Delegate of Armenia: Can the chair

Executive Board

- Chairperson – Mallika Bhardwaj
- Director – Arindam Som
- Assistant Director – Vathul BS
- Rapporteur – Achintya Sharma

please define what is a woman?
Sec Gen.: A woman is a female grown up enough to call herself a woman.

Gossip

- Korea’s heaaaaart-felt wishes & apologies did reach Syria through the burst of laughter as they won the Tom & Jerry award by the Global Press for their indirect quarrel.
- Few delegates like those of Ireland and Cambodia got so stuck up in Ethics and Bioethics that playing computer games seemed to be the only way out.
- The delegate of Armenia flirted with the Secretary General and also asked for his mobile number. The embarrassed Sec Gen lamely replied, “I am really sorry that God made me in such a way that I can express my feelings only to the members of the opposite gender. BUT, if ever in the rest of my life, I see the need for you, I’ll surely contact you.”
- The constant pestering from the delegates forced the Chairperson to sing sharabi aankhein and the rest of the board danced to its tune. 🇮🇳

Interesting Altercations & Energetic Arguments

International Atomic Energy Agency

A slow beginning transcending into invigorating sessions, constant deliberations, strong resolutions and bucket loads of chits, IAEA was truly epic

Abhishi Bhatia & Brinda Taparia, AIS Noida

Mood

The committee started off with an extremely serious mood and with all the delegates befuddled about what exactly is going on in the committee. Though the second day saw a tremendous level of debating, it also gaped a flirtatious and humorous atmosphere. The mood of the third day again reverted to being sombre.

Agenda Proceedings

Once the quorum was established, the committee proceeded to a placard voting on both the agendas- ‘Rehabilitation of Regions Affected by Radioactivity’ and ‘Promotion of Nuclear Technology for Peaceful Purposes’. The latter was selected for debate and discussion. USA pointed out the harmful effects of nuclear energy, following which it was bombarded with points of information. Further, Australia pointed out the hypocrisy of talking about peace when most countries still possess nuclear weapons. Bubbling enthusiasm, confident delegates and socialising-at-its-peak captured the spotlight on the second day. The committee was under concentrated debate, when the sudden surfacing of the crisis left all the delegates dithering. The committee received a UN report which stated that a NATO military aircraft, carrying nuclear warheads from USA to Turkey, had crashed in Japan due to attack by Russian missiles. Further updates revealed that the aircraft was actually a decoy. The second day ended with a press release with the IAEA recommending SC sanctions against Russia. On the third day, the delegates were all set with their draft resolutions and the committee saw consuming discussion on the resolutions put forward by UK, USA, France and Japan.

Resolutions

The first session ended with the delegates having a much clearer idea about what needed to be discussed further in agenda proceedings. The self-assured delegates came up with effective solutions on the second day and the resolution process embarked with the formation of three blocs. Finally, the committee was successful in passing the resolution proposed by Japan and France on Day 3, wherein they propounded effective solutions such as- increase in safety and security for nuclear reactors, and promotion of peaceful uses of nuclear energy like desalination and nuclear waste management.

Statements

- Delegate of India- Turkey likes to babble. That’s not new considering he is turkey
- Executive Board- Our Rappie seems to be infatuated with the girl in black. The cute one!
- Sec Gen- Motion fails...Motion fails...Motion fails (11 times, really?)

Gossip

- Cheesy much, Pakistan: Do you possess gravitational force? Everyone seems to be falling for you (Yes! She is talking about the charming Chairperson!)
- India had a crush on everybody whether it was the logistics, the hospitality or even China and Brazil! (Casanova India)
- Executive Board: Delegates, if you are not ready to end the unmod even after 40 minutes, paper balls is what you will get from the EB.
- The Chair performed a partial strip dance and walked down the aisle much to the delight of everybody.
- The Chair actually came up and chatted with the GP and “expressed his desire” to be a part of the GP as his job was too serious. (The coolest chair ever!) 🇮🇳

Eat, Deliberate, Love

World Trade Organization

Slow and steady Exec board, strong deliberations by delegates and finally a resolution passed, WTO surely exemplified- Where art Thou Order?

Snigdha Shahi & Devina Jain, AIS Noida

Mood

The delegates were either too hungry or too sleepy (delegates couldn't just pass off a discreet yawn with the GP around) to pay attention to rounds of boring moderated caucuses. The Executive Board, delegates and the Global Press wished for the committee to gain momentum. And boy, didn't it do so spectacularly on the second day! The delegates were wide awake, as a motion to commence an un-mod was passed, and a heated and haphazard un-mod of 40 minutes followed, resulting in 3 draft resolutions, which were extensively discussed on Day 3.

Agenda Proceedings

The agenda of 'Intellectual Property Rights' for 3 whole days (Imagine the horror!) had the delegates worked up and flustered. On the second day of the conference, the Secretary General literally dropped the bomb - a blast in Shanghai, due to which trade halted and foreign investment plunged. CRISIS! Luckily, the committee worked towards an effective solution and saved the day from a dead end. Kudos!

Resolutions

By the discretion of the Secretary General, all draft resolutions were scrapped due to errors in clauses and content. The debate on the draft resolutions witnessed a delightful substitution, as the Deputy Director General (DDG) descended from the dais to represent the delegate of Albania. Delegates seemed to have forgotten how to maintain decorum and tempers flew high. An un-mod took place and the delegates were given time to restructure the draft resolution, which was finally passed.

Statements

- Sec Gen: Don't think of this as AIMUN. This is the actual WTO.
- Delegate of Denmark: If this is the actual WTO, the delegate would like to question the true

Gossip

- The highly anticipated Point of Entertainment had the delegates and Global Press members roaring with laughter as the oh-so-serious Director General finally loosened up and shook a "leg" highly censored to 'Chammak Challo' with the esteemed Sec Gen. Point of Entertainment also displayed the love blossoming between the delegates of USA and Norway. Ah, finally some MUN love!
- A particularly fine member of Logistics remained oblivious to the intense batting of eyelashes and the dreamy stares from the delegates of Maldives, Korea and Romania. Dude, you ignored the sweet little caricature by Romania!
- The Director General found an admirer in the Assistant Director of General Assembly. Happy and 'gay', anyone? 🌈

Human Rights Council

Universal agenda, anticipation due to unmods and more unmods, highs & lows, mood fluctuations and lots more, comprised the three day committee session at HRC

Prakriti Sharma, AIS Noida & Shreya Gauba, AIS Mayur Vihar

Mood

The mood of the delegates fluctuated, ranging from excitement early in the morning to wondering when the committee would adjourn for lunch, as the level of debate was maintained by few enthusiastic delegates. Day 2 flew by in a flurry of un-moderated caucuses as delegates struggled to reach a common resolution. On the last day, the mood of the delegates became lethargic as the first resolution draft, presented by the delegate of Japan and delegate of UK and their sponsors, proved to be highly amateurish. Amendments in almost every clause annoyed the Executive Board and the Chairperson cancelled the tea break, causing an outbreak of exasperation among delegates. However, after Draft Resolution 1.1 was passed, everyone moved into a relaxed and easy-going mood, even chatting up with the Exec Board.

Agenda Proceedings

The two agendas of the first day were 'Internet Access as a Human Right' and 'Responsibility

Founder President (C) and Ram Jethmalani, Former Minister of Law and Justice (fourth from right) attend HRC

Be Human! Be Right!

to Protect' (R2P). The delegates decided to pursue the second agenda. Led by the delegate of Spain, delegates decided to discuss the loopholes with respect to R2P. On the second day, a crisis was declared by the Exec Board on information received by the UN concerning the employment of mercenaries by the National Transitional Government (NTC) in the war against Libya. The third day was dedicated to finding a common resolution to issues regarding R2P.

Resolution

The delegates managed to successfully resolve the crisis, with valuable inputs from the delegate of Saudi Arabia, China, USA and Spain. On the third day, two draft resolutions were presented by the delegates. The first one was scrapped by the Chairperson, highlighting the need for several amendments. The second draft resolution presented by the delegate of Spain was accepted by more than two-thirds of the delegates. The Chair commended the effort of the delegates and lauded them on reaching a solution (at last!). Finally, a delegate raised a motion to end the committee officially and the Chair banged the gavel to end a magnificent session of the Human Rights Council.

Statements

- Delegate of UK: I'm going to die or kill Japan.
- In response to a statement by a delegate saying

Executive Board

- Chairperson – Nayanika Varma
- Director – Ishita Mishra
- Rapporteur – Manas Sahni

that R2P ought to make sure that all "human discomforts" are "alleviated", the Delegate of Saudi Arabia said, "I might consider missing my 5am Teletubbies show, a discomfort."

Gossip

- The delegate of USA was the object of derision on the first day as she fought through jibes concerning Guantanamo Bay.
- The delegate of Hungary was considered the most 'active' and enthusiastic delegate, though he made a few invalid (read stupid) points.
- Chits passed between the delegates of Cuba and Norway were intercepted by the Press and ascertained a one-sided infatuation (harboured by the Delegate of Cuba).
- The much admired Chairperson sang to "Rolling In The Deep" on the third day. 🌈

Joint Crisis Cabinet USA

Joint Crisis Cabinet, the new entrant in the committee pack was full of fun and pun, both intended. Fresh as ever, JCC USA had crazy crispy crisis crackles. Join in....

Bhavna Mehrotra, AIS Saket

Mood

No idealistic lectures, no job profiles. In short- no nonsense. This was exactly what the JCC was like. In JCC, intelligence, analysis and thinking on one's feet were as essential as chits are to a delegate. A happy-go-lucky mood was set in with giggles around the room on Day 1, probably, to help the members get into the mode of MUNing. However, as soon as the crisis surfaced, the atmosphere became all serious. Day 2 was only about serious work. The committee moved at a faster pace to tackle the crisis at hand. The final Day had a mixed tone. From serious discussions to light hearted jokes, unmoderated caucuses to the Point of Entertainment; Day 3 had it all. In short, JCC had all that it had promised- anticipation, fun, seriousness and awesomeness.

Committee Proceedings

An air of suspense filled the entire room, because in the JCC "No one can possibly know what is about to happen: it is happening each time, for the first time, for the only time." (James Baldwin)

Welcome day one, welcome the crisis- USA received a letter signed by the Chuck the ideals...

KGB (Whatever it stands for, but it is important) asking USA to divulge details of involvement with any international organisation. If not, USA would witness the wrath of nuclear bombs every hour, and soon USA would lie in smoldering ruins. Scary! But why fear, when JCC USA was there to handle it all? There were serious discussions and intense debates over a span of three days, several un-moderated caucuses and even more updates. Blueprints of locations, various solutions, passing of communiques and finally, declaration of directive, JCC

USA was one helluva committee. The second day saw the merging of JCC USA and Russia to settle the crisis diplomatically; but things quickly spiralled out of control and all one could witness was accusations and more accusations. All in all, the three days offered a plethora of emotions, all under one roof.

Resolution

JCC USA was no ordinary committee, and hence, couldn't have asked for an ordinary end either. Unlike other committees, JCC doesn't have the concept of resolutions but that of directives and communiques. However, JCC USA didn't have either. It started with discussions and ended with even more discussions. USA declared DEFCON 2 against Russia; and that was all about it.

Statements

President to the Minister of Defense: How will staying at home help prevent nuclear attacks? Are your bathroom tiles so efficient?

Executive Board

- Chairperson – Siddarth Das
- Vice President – Sharang Bhat
- Common Crisis Director – Abhishek Sankritik

- President- Nobody speaks crap, except the National Security Advisor!
- President- Somebody is licking fingers, somebody's tongue slips and someone sneaks into the room of the Director of Management and Budget... What's happening in my committee?
- President- Director of Defense, sometimes it's your finger. Sometimes it's your pen. Why do you put something in your mouth?

Gossip

- Secretary of Joint Chief of staff: Sir. President: You may sit and speak. You're quite old.
- 'Chaud' (Daring)- One of the criteria decided by the Executive Board to judge the members of the committee. So, the maximum votes went to the delegate with the highest 'Chaud' factor.
- Lunch ate time- The members were so exasperated by the debate that they preferred lunch over the committee and turned up late.
- Chief of General Staff of Russia to Chief of General Staff of USA: You give us Megan Fox and we'll give you the spy.

Joint Crisis Cabinet Russia

With heaps of debate, action, and freshly brewed drama, the shiny new sub committee of the lethal brand Joint Crisis Cabinet- JCC Russia, couldn't have asked for a better (err first ever) start!

Vishnu Sinha, AIS Noida

Mood

The mood of the committee was like a flaming arrow which missed the bull's eye every time during the first day. However, the aim was hugely stabilized due to enhanced teamwork and effective handling of responsibilities over the next 2 days, bringing forth the best out of the committee.

Committee Proceedings

JCC Russia brought with it Russian accents and smart ministers who were buckled up for a nail-biting crisis, which embroiled them in a political and stylish thriller involving an American spy- Harvey Conrad. The spy was captured and tortured when he was caught whispering comfortably about nuclear bombs on Russian soil. Blatantly ripped out of Hollywood movies, the crisis managed to keep the well-researched ministers, directors and department heads on the edge of their seats, as they worked against each other to think of ideas to track the bombs through satellites. The committee ended with a dramatic cliff hanger twist when the USA declared DEFCON4 against Russia, compelling the beloved Russian ministers to prevent their motherland from impending attack.

The cabinet witnessed a lot of shouting, cursing and dismissal of allegations as well as ideas. The eye cringing, hair pulling and lengthy debate on day 2 regarding the decision to move the spy and his double from a Russian maximum prison facility to another prison facility to fool the Americans, hit infinite dead ends. The process was so slow that one could actually feel one's nails growing. To deal with the severe indirect threats peacefully, diplomatic channels were opened up and the President of Russia and USA decided to meet along with their ambassadors and secretaries at the UN Headquarters in Geneva.

The Spy Next Door

The supposedly peaceful meeting, turned into a wild cock-fight to the finish when allegations and accusations were thrown at both the parties. The heads of states were firm and resolute in denying their hand in the unfortunate decisions and the meeting hit an unfortunate dead end.

Resolutions

The third day of the committee focused more on the various ministers saving the day by making key decisions and passing directives regarding the

Executive Board

- President - Rohan Dev Talwar
- Prime Minister – G.S. Chaitanya

troublesome militarization of Kosovo and the Arctic and dealt with theft of dangerous nuclear pellets.

Statements

- Security Council Secretary to Chief of General Staff: Why is your button open? You are a Chief.
- Chair: I place my hand on Russian vodka and swear that this will be a great committee.
- President to Director of Russian Academy of Sciences – What is a manned satellite?

Director of Russian Academy of Sciences – Sir, I don't know. It's written here.

Gossip

- The President accused the Director of Emergency Services, of stealing ideas from Jeffrey Archer books, romantic movies and the story of Sleeping Beauty. He also implied that the Director seemed like an avid fan of Mad-Eye Moody of Harry Potter Series.
- The President of Russian Federation reflected his disappointment by a gentle smirk and rolling of eyes, followed by sudden shouting at the members.

GERMAN delegates with members from the Global Press

Kangni Zhu - delegate from CHINA receives her certificate during the closing ceremony

The world in a nutshell

The world came together under one roof as the much anticipated Amity International Model United Nations finally came on the floor. When eight countries and two foreign correspondents come together, the inevitable happens - 'Global Dialogues'. Seasoned with cultural spices and garnished with a lot of love, these are sure to bring back some fond 'international' memories

Brinda Taparia, AIS Noida & Aakash Sahai, AIS Saket

A 'wow' moment in AIMUN?

 Denmark

To be honest, we have seen this kind of debate for the very first time. The un-moderated caucuses were pretty intimidating and getting recognized in committees like GA and UNESCO was tedious and challenging.

 Germany

The screaming in the unmods was crazy. Everyone went insane!

 Mauritius

The way everyone yelled in the unmods was VERY VERY freaky indeed. It was like a fish market!

 Kazakhstan

Well, we were totally blown away by the University's campus and also by the committees.

 Pakistan

A wow moment? Are you seriously kidding us? The whole conference was 'WOW' for us :)

 China

There are so many WOW moments that I seriously can't state one. (On much insistence) Okay...the most awesome thing was all the cultural performances and especially the debate in WTO. It was amazing. All hail WTO!

 Maldives

We found a pet in the university and we named him 'Chu' and trust us, he is very, very cute.

What is the most important thing you've gained from AIMUN?

 Denmark

We gained a lot of experience, debating skill and above all PATIENCE (Getting recognized takes a lot of time here. Phewww...).

 Germany

It would have to be the research and diplomacy skills. The delegates here reresenting Germany knew our country much more than what we did. And yes, the debating was amazing!

 Mauritius

Definitely, a lot of new friends and a memorable experience!

 Kazakhstan

The international exposure we gained was brilliant.

 Pakistan

A lot of Facebook friend requests and pictures. :)

 China

A new outlook towards MUNing, better debating skills and a new confident me. PS Thanks for the Best Position Paper!

 Maldives

This being our first MUN, we gained a LOT. The entire concept is so awesome, we hope to do more MUNs in future!

As a student representative of your country, what is the one similarity and one difference with India?

 Denmark

Similarity is that people over here are very kind and hospitable (They loved their host families), too kind, in fact. And as for the difference, what's with the driving on the left side? That is just plain weird!

 Germany

The people over here are very nice. Back

The delegation from MALDIVES in an all-smiles mood

Delegates from KAZAKHSTAN come together for a picture perfect moment

The MALDIVES delegation presents a colourful performance

Global Press reporters Brinda (L) & Akash (R) in a candid conversation with delegates from DENMARK

in Germany, they wouldn't help you out so much! And as for the similarity, it's definitely the education system (We know your pain).

Mauritius

The food over here is so different. Back home, it's all fish and seafood! And the similarity is...uummmmm....(That's the only thing we got out of them)

Kazakhstan

The kindness of people really stunned us. It was like home! But the weather of India is totally different. Why is it so extreme always? (We keep asking the same question over and over again!)

Pakistan

For starters, the thing that is similar here is that people here are very hospitable and lovely. The only difference I could find was the yummy Paneer.

China

Difference? Everything here is so different. I cannot find any similarity except MUNs and the 'Work hard, Play hard' lifestyle.

Maldives

First of all, the language and the food is very different. The only thing we have in common is the Indian Ocean, we suppose (Seriously?).

One association with India that you're proud of?

Denmark: Puts on his thinking cap, with all efforts in vain

Germany: Both Germany and India are democracies, so yeah, that's it!

Mauritius: Both are SAARC members!

Kazakhstan: We are Asians. Yay!

Pakistan: Our diversity.

China: Indo-Sino relations.

Maldives: SAARC (Again? Really too much of MUNing now?)

One thing you'd like to take back home from India?

Denmark: AIMUN!

Germany: AIMUN and the lovely street food!

Mauritius: Autorickshaw rides and the infinite number of friends!

Kazakhstan: The magnificent Taj Mahal and obviously AIMUN.

Pakistan: AIMUN and Paneer!

China: The vegetarian food.

Maldives: AIMUN! (Looks like we have a consensus over AIMUN :D)

On a parting note

Indian Food

- Denmark – Yummy but so spicy
- Germany – Sev Puri
- Mauritius – Paneer
- Kazakhstan – Spicy, very spicy
- Pakistan – Paneer (Are you guys obsessed with it?)
- China - Vegetarian
- Maldives - Spicy

Indian Fashion

- Denmark – Colourful and traditional
- Germany – Saris
- Mauritius – Suits and Saris are so pretty
- Kazakhstan – Saris
- Pakistan – Saris
- China – Vibrant and traditional
- Maldives – Colourful

Indian Hospitality

- Denmark – 12/10
- Germany – Great
- Mauritius – Kind
- Kazakhstan – Too sweet
- Pakistan – Awesome
- China – Lovely and very very hospitable
- Maldives – Sweet

Indian Culture

- Denmark – Different, but in a really good way
- Germany – Traditional to the core
- Mauritius – Very rich
- Kazakhstan – Richness galore
- Pakistan – Vibrant
- China – Deep, rich and confusing
- Maldives – Too many traditions

Indian Education

- Denmark – Hardcore
- Germany – It's tough. We feel sorry for you guys
- Mauritius – Way too hard for us
- Kazakhstan – It's nice (Really? Ask us!)
- Pakistan – Somewhat similar
- China – How can you guys survive this? (We wonder, sometimes, too.)
- Maldives – No comments

- DENMARK-Sankt Anne Gymnasium & Rysenteen Gymnasium
- GERMANY-Goldberg Gymnasium & Geschwiester School
- MALDIVES-Aminiya School
- MAURITIUS - Droopnath Ramphul School, St Andrews School, St Esprit School, Forest Side SSS & Royal College
- PAKISTAN-Head Start College
- KAZAKHSTAN-Mahatma Gandhi School
- CHINA - Shenzhen Foreign Languages School
- SWITZERLAND - Kanton Schule Wettingen

Delegation from MAURITIUS strikes a pose for the shutterbugs

Giulia from SWITZERLAND participated as a GP reporter

Delegates from PAKISTAN in a conversational mood

GLOBAL PRESS DOES EVERYTHING

GP REPORTS

GP SCRIBBLES

GP SEEKS ADVICE

GP WORKS

THUNDER OR BLUNDER

Mirror Mirror on the wall, who is the hottest of them all?

Abhishi Bhatia, AIS Noida

From 'Oh-so-drool-worthy-looks' to a few faux pas, AIMUN '11 had it all. Here's lugging you the fashion decree of the three day fiesta.

THE FAB

Some people just told us how to make formals trendy with their towering heels, matching accessories and stylish hairdos. While all the females were brandishing their stilettos, hot dresses and voguish accessories, the guys were not

Smart formals are in

Fashion Cop

far behind with their jazzy ties and crazy yet stylish hairstyles. The Chair of IAEA, Delegate of Turkey (IAEA) and many more made style statements with their Simpson and looney-toons tie. Delegate of Lebanon (UNESCO) strutted around in a hot blue dress and hotter footwear at the delegate dance.

THE DRAB

Some delegates definitely had a fashion crisis to humbug with! Rapporteur of Security Council, next time please don't come to a party, wearing a night-suit like dress. Rapporteur of WTO, though your footwear gets a thumbs up, your frilly-furlly top was a major let down. It just did not go with the occasion!

ON THE FENCE

Mix and match is not everyone's forte!

High on heels

Sample the Director of National Economic Council (JCC-USA) who attempted at being cute with his tie but the design on his suit was just bizarre. Though some girls were perfect with their heels, they went completely wrong with their micro-minis or ghagras. A blend of fashion swanks and foul-ups, AIMUN 2011 brought out the fashionable and in some cases not-so-fashionable side of the delegates.

Formals can get cute too

HALL OF FAMIE

It was time for all the sweat and toil to pay off as the ones who put their best foot (read words) forward were awarded. Take a look at the best ones.

UNHRC Best Delegate Award	People's Republic of China- DPS RKP Saudi Arabia- DAV Gurgaon
High Commendation	Special Mention
Brazil- AIS Saket France- DPS Vasant Kunj Gabon- DAV Gurgaon	Australia- Cambridge School, Indirapuram Zimbabwe- AIS Noida
Special Mention	Best Position Paper
UK- Modern School, Barakhamba Libya- G.D. Goenka School, Vasant Kunj	USA- AIS Saket France- DPS Vasant Kunj
Best Position Paper	IAEA
USA- AIS Saket People's Republic of China- DPS Noida	Best Delegate Award
World Trade Organization	Japan- DPS Mathura Road Russian Federation- DPS RKP USA- AIS Saket
Best Delegate Award	High Commendation
People's Republic of China- DPS Noida Japan- DPS Mathura Road Israel- Modern School, Barakhamba Russian Federation- DPS RKP	United Kingdom- Modern School, Barakhamba France- DPS Vasant Kunj
High Commendation	Special Mention
Croatia- Rysenstein Gymnasium, Denmark UK- Modern School, Barakhamba Uzbekistan- AIS Noida Iran- DAV Gurgaon	Turkey- AIS Gurgaon Sec-43
Special Mention	Best Position Paper
Turkey- AIS Gurgaon Sec- 43 Brazil- AIS Saket	Australia- Cambridge Indirapuram Kenya- Mauritius, Ministry of Education
Best Position Paper	Security Council
USA- Shenzhen Foreign Languages School, China Croatia- Rysenstein Gymnasium, Denmark	Best Delegate Award
Special Mention	Brazil- AIS Saket Iran- DAV Gurgaon
High Commendation	High Commendation
Japan- DPS Mathura Road Cyprus- Sanskriti School Democratic People's Republic of Korea- AIS Pushp Vihar Tunisia- DPS Mathura Road	UK – Modern School, Barakhamba Israel- Modern School, Barakhamba
Special Mention	Special Mention
Russian Federation- DPS RKP Kenya- Mauritius, Ministry of Education Spain- DPS Noida	France- DPS Vasant Kunj Libya- G.D Goenka Vasant Kunj
High Commendation	JCC- USA
Japan- DPS Mathura Road Cyprus- Sanskriti School Democratic People's Republic of Korea- AIS Pushp Vihar Tunisia- DPS Mathura Road	Best Delegate Award
Special Mention	Attorney General- Head Start School, Pakistan Secretary of Defense- Modern School, Barakhamba
Best Position Paper	High Commendation
Japan- DPS Mathura Road Uzbekistan- AIS Noida	Joint Chief of Staff – AIS Saket
General Assembly	Special Mention
Best Delegate Award	Director of CIA- DPS RKP Secretary of Treasury- Sanskriti School
UK - Modern School, Barakhamba Germany- Sanskriti School USA- AIS Saket Israel- Modern School, Barakhamba	JCC – Russia
High Commendation	Best Delegate Award
France- DPS Vasant Kunj Russia- DPS RKP	Minister of Defense – DPS RKP Director of Federal Security Service – AIS Saket
Best Delegation Awards	High Commendation
Israel – Modern School, Barakhamba USA- AIS Saket Japan- DPS Mathura Road People's Republic of China- DPS Noida Iran- DAV Gurgaon	Minister of Justice- Sanskriti School
	Special Mention
	Minister of Foreign Affairs – DPS Gurgaon

Pics: Meghna Kaushik, AIS Saket & Dialogues: Medhavi Arora & Vishnu Sinha, AIS Noida

Children, your Sec Gen shall proceed to show you how to do the Macarena!
1. Wear spectacles
2. Wear a waistcoat
3. Pretend to be a traffic policeman!

I am sweaty and I know it!

I can dance better than all of you. Amateurs!

HEARTiest congratulations to us for making AIMUN 2011 so awesome!

Laila main lailaaa...

Three cheers for my dancing MUNers. Hip hip hurraayyy!!!

I am a delegate dancer! Pa pa parara...

We're dancing but still watching you. We are the GP!

I can watch with one eye too!

Watch out, you are being filmed!!

I cooked up this MUN. I am the "CHEF"!

I am dancing from "HEAD" to toe.

AIMUN'11

USG GP

FRNDZ + G.P = FUN

CONFERENCE SERVICES

LOGISTICS

This graffiti is brought to you by:
Kangan Khanna & Aalvee Damle, AIS Saket

CHIEF EDITOR G.P

GOSSIP YEAH!!!

D BEST 3 DAYS OF MY LIFE !!

IN MY MEMORY BANK 4EVER !!

SEC GEN

USG IT

Let's SHOOT!!

SUIT UPP!

VAIO

HEAD AIMUN CHEF DE CABINET

PUTTING together AIMUN was such a task but it turned out 2 b worth the effort getting PAKISTAN was such an achievement. It was gr8 2 see AMITASHA KIDS hv fun

- JYOTI ARORA

M THANKFULL 2 CHAIRPERSON MA'AM. D EVENT WUD NOT HAVE BEEN A SUCCESS WIDOUT MY TEAM. KUDOS 2 D EXEC BOARD, LOGISTICS, CONFERENCE STAFF, D SECRETARIAT, well done all of you.

- SUMEDH KAPOOR