

Teachers inspire, guide, and nurture, shaping our knowledge and character. This Teachers' Day, students from AIS Saket explore what makes an exceptional teacher by reflecting on influential figures from various fields. Their insights show how these personalities embody effective teaching, offering unique attributes that would enrich any classroom. As we celebrate the role of educators, we honour their profound impact on guiding us toward our full potential and shaping future generations.

A legacy of compassion

Jane Addams, a pioneering social worker and peace activist, stands as an inspirational figure whose legacy continues to shape the field of social work. Her relentless dedication to addressing poverty, inequality, and social injustice demonstrates her unwavering commitment to the empowerment of marginalised communities. As a teacher, Addams would bring unparalleled empathy and passion to the classroom, guiding students to actively engage in creating meaningful change. Under her mentorship, students would learn to approach social work with compassion and critical thinking.

Beyond the spotlight

My favourite quote: "The good we secure for ourselves is precarious and uncertain until it is secured for all of us and incorporated into our common life."

Sonakshi Uppal, AIS Saket, IX D

From screen to classroom

Priyanka Chopra embodies the qualities of an exceptional teacher, merging her talent, experience, and wisdom with a deep sense of resilience and determination. With a diverse career spanning acting, producing, philanthropy, and entrepreneurship, her versatility and eagerness to learn are essential traits that any teacher should possess. Her ability to navigate different cultures and professions with grace and empathy further enhances her potential as a mentor and role model. She would guide aspiring individuals with confidence and inspire them to stay true to their paths.

My favourite quote: "You can't please everyone, and you can't live your life trying to."

Aarna Behal, AIS Saket, VIII C

Captain cool in the classroom

Affectionately known as 'Captain Cool', Mahendra Singh Dhoni is celebrated for his unparalleled leadership and remarkable composure under pressure. Dhoni's unique blend of strategic thinking, adaptability, and calm demeanour makes him a natural teacher. He teaches the importance of maintaining composure, even in the most intense situations, a lesson that is invaluable for students learning to navigate the pressures of both academics and personal life. He has often emphasised the importance of focusing on the process rather than being consumed by the outcome. Dhoni's influence as a teacher would undoubtedly inspire students to cultivate these virtues in their lives, equipping them with the mindset needed to succeed in life.

My favourite quote: "The process is more important than the results."

Bhavika Gupta, AIS Saket, VIII E

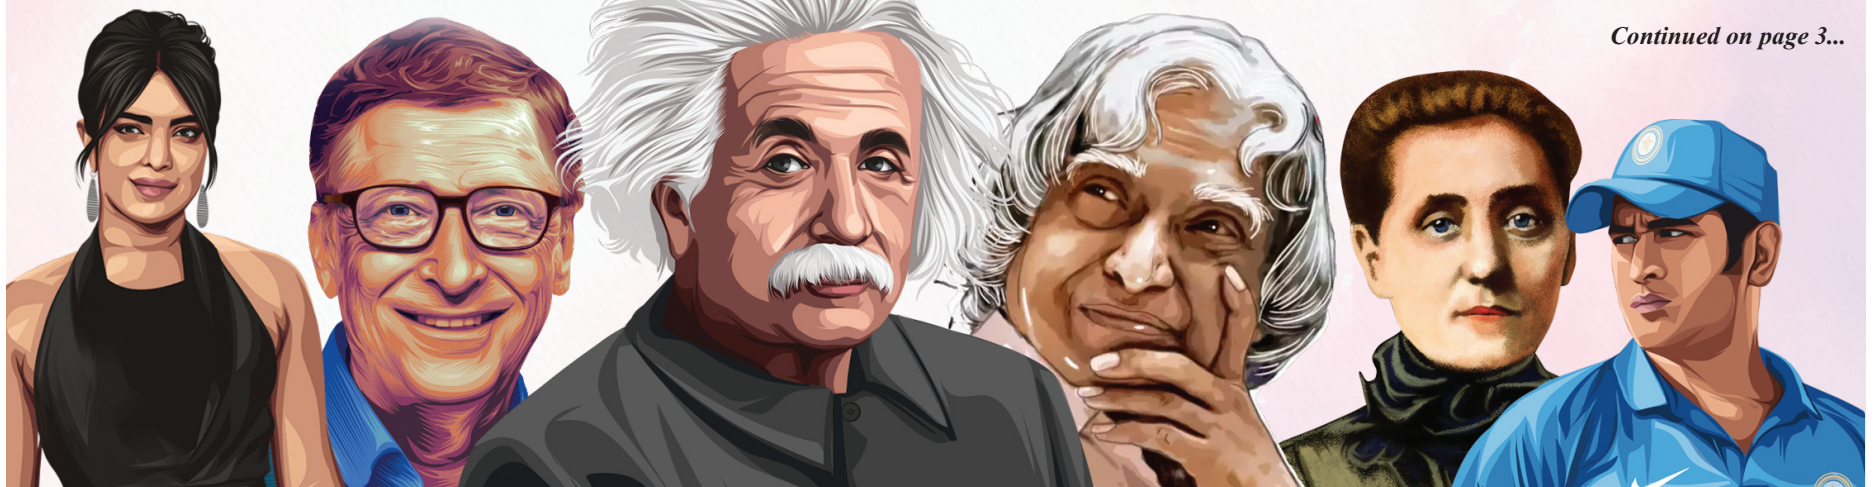

From physics to classroom

Albert Einstein, one of the most influential scientists in history, embodies the qualities that define an exceptional teacher. A good teacher possesses a deep understanding of the subject matter, and Einstein's profound knowledge of mathematics and science is unquestionable. His ability to simplify complex topics makes him equipped to teach challenging concepts with clarity. Furthermore, empathy is a hallmark of great educators, and his empathy allowed him to understand the challenges that children face, enabling him to create a supportive learning environment. These qualities of curiosity and mastery of subject matter make him not just a brilliant scientist, but also an extraordinary teacher.

My favourite quote: "Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow. The important thing is not to stop questioning."

Rishita Gulati, AIS Saket, VII B

Continued on page 3...

THE GT POLL

Will the restrictions on study permits in Canada leave the Indian students at a risk of deportation?

- a) Yes
- b) No
- c) Can't say

To vote, checkout our Instagram page @the_global_times

Coming next

Hindi Special Edition Part II

Hindi Diwas Special

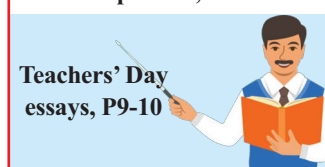

As September unfolds, it brings with it the celebration of one of our nation's most beloved languages, Hindi. The country comes together to appreciate the linguistic beauty of this Rajbhasha, culminating in the grand observance of Hindi Diwas on September 14. In this spirit, The Global Times presents 'Part I' of our two-part Hindi Special Edition, featuring four pages (pages 5-8) dedicated to Hindi. As you explore these pages, let the essence of Hindi inspire you with its timeless charm and cultural significance.

What's inside

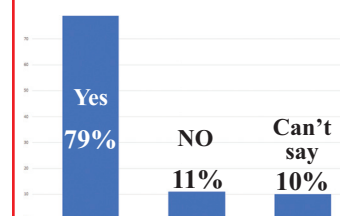

Parathas, pakodas, and passion, P3

Teachers' Day essays, P9-10

POLL RESULT for GT Edition August 26, 2024

Do you think Disney remaking too many live action classics is taking the magic away?

Results as on August 31, 2024